

part one

	About this manual	5
What parents and teachers should know about children's responses to the stresses of war	CHAPTER 1
	Nine wartime experiences that cause stress in children
	Wartime stresses on children	11
	Parent or close relative's death	12
	Exposure to combat	14
	Having to live as a refugee	16
	Long-term separation	18
	Exposure to violence as a witness	20
	Exposure to violence as a victim	22
	Suffering physical injuries	24
	Participation in armed forces	26
	War-caused poverty	28
	CHAPTER 2
	Understanding children's reactions to wartime stresses
	Normal vs. severe reactions	32
	Identifying causes	34
	CHAPTER 3
	Children's normal reactions to wartime stresses
	Importance of the child's age	38
	Reactions typical at ages 2-5	40
	Reactions typical at ages 6-12	42
	Problems common at ages 6-12	44
	Reactions typical at ages 13-16	46
	Problems common at ages 13-16	48

part two

ADVICE FOR PARENTS

TEACHERS

CHAPTER 4

How parents and teachers can help children cope with the stresses of war

A 'therapeutic' environment

50

Guidelines for helping children

51

56

Guidelines for helping adolescents

54

60

CHAPTER 5

Ten specific problems—advice for parents and teachers

Clinging

65

67

64

Bed-wetting

69

73

68

Bedtime

75

79

74

Schoolwork

81

84

80

Anxieties

89

91

88

Aggression

95

99

94

Depression

103

108

102

Grieving

111

117

110

Risk-taking

119

121

118

'Aches &amp; Pains'

125

127

124

CHAPTER 6

When a child-care specialist is needed

Identifying severe problems

130

Referrals to child-care specialists

135

Sources

138